THE PESTILENCE FLY.

The pestilence fly has made its appeardire pestilence. It is a little longer than the common house-fly, and has very transparent wings of a slight purple hue. The head is perfectly round, of a dark brown color, with a white mark on the face. The body is divided like the wasp's. The round portion next the head to which the wings are attached, is of an invisible green. The remainder of the body from the waist to the tail presents alternate rings of jet black and a pale yellow. It has six legs, which are longer than the common fly's.

One of these singular flies was caught a few days ago by Mr. Ira D. Stocking, jeweller, at this place, where it may be scen by calling.

DEMOCRATIC ECONOMY.

The Democrats have so long been in the people are beginning to be curious | tence : to know how they propose to conduct the financial offairs of the government, if they should be so fortunate as to get into power. They are voluble in preferring charges, and profuse in making promises, but they neglect to refer to the brilliant examples of political integrity and ecomomy which certainly must be recorded on the pages of the history of that pure and undefiled party. The least that could be expected of them is that they will give the people evidence that, in the localities where they are now the ruling party, they are making good their promises. If they can conduct the government so much more economically than the party now in power, and if all peculation would cease on the accession of the Democracy to power, why do they not point, with its present name assumed. Again, my pride, to the pure and primitive honesty, which prevails, or should prevail, in the Democratic strongholds?

The Democrats have full swing in the City of New York, and virtual sway in the State. In the City of New York they can exercise the virtues they so highly extol without fear of Radical corruption or molestation. Now, let us look at their record there. The Tammany Democracy which is all powerful in New York, and which aims at the control of the whole party, have for many years past held such unlimited power that it seemed none dare call them to account. The leaders, having enriched themselves at the expense of the city, and having acquired, through their ill-gotten wealth, such a hold upon the Northern Democracy that to shake them off would involve the anni-Washington.

favorite policy, we can look for noth-Confederacy placed on the same footing with those who fought to preserve the Union. We may expect to see rampant the government for losses sustained in trying to overthrow the government from which they ask compensation.

It is notorious that all the leading rebets have preserved and filed away proofs and estimates of their losses in the late war. They look to the Democratic party to open to them the vaults of the national treasury. They cannot off. conceive of a Democratic victory which will not restore to them what they have lost, and place rebel soldiers on the pension list; and if they ever get conuntil these ends are fully accomplished.

An administration controlled by the Northern Democracy simply means the transfer of the infamous Tammany ring to Washington. What sort of a with Tweed, Sweeney, Hall, Connolly, Hoffman, and the whole voracious Tammany ring fastened on the vitals of the nation? A few years ago these men were poor-now Tweed can count his $25,000,000, and his satellites their millions in proportion to their opportunities and talents for stealing. If the plans of the Northern Democrats do not fail, these men are to be our rulers They, and their friends, are the men who are to carry out the strictly honest and economical programme of the Northern Democracy.

At present, an economical Democratic administration is simply an impossibility. An bonest Democratic President would be powerless in the hands of the strongest element of the party, and would be compelled to bow to the will of that element, whether it be controll-

THE DEMOCRACY.

It is not strange that people are beginning to ask: Where do the Democrats stand, and who are their leaders? Those who follow the lead of Stephens, Toombs and Co., are manifesting their adhesion to the sound old Democratic faith by talking like good rebels, while nees." in many of the Northern States the "New Departure" has been formally adopted by the Democrats. By simply "acquiescing" they have neither declared an intention to stand by the old isfasten themselves on the government at | be restored to political power, but pre-Washington.

To the most casual observer of the political situation it is apparent that a Democratic victory, in 1872, can mean but one of two things, notwithstanding the fair promises of the Democratic press.

Either the Northern or Southern wing will control. Should the Southern ern element be able to carry out their fer their request solely on the ground tility to Grant as the Republican nomiing else than to see the soldiers of the, nee they are decided and unanimous. Occasionally they nominate for office a disappointed and renegade Republican, as in the case of J. R. Doolittle, of Wisrebels presenting their accounts against consin, who is their "New Departure" candidate for governor.

Now the Democracy must come together somewhere, before the next election. The leaders are getting too hungry for Uncle Sam's "loaves and fishes" to stand on such a trifling thing as a little difference in sentiment. The coming together of the scattered flock is not far Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are affectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist; there is accretely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exit, but upon the diseased humors and alimy deposits that breed these living monsters of diseases. No System of Medicine, no verminges, no shithelminities will free the system from worms like those Bitters.
